KAISER STRIKING MIGHTY BLOWS

Beset by Formation of Ring of Enemies Around His Empire

SUBS IN WAR ZONE

Attempts to Crush Retreating Muscovites—Great Activity at German Air Bases.

London, June 5—Zeppelins raided the east and southeast coast of England during the night.

An official statement from the admiralty today admits that "a few casualties" resulted.

London, June 5—With every resource at his command, the Kaiser is now striking his mightiest blows against the ring of enemies encircling his empire.

A powerful German offensive has been launched against the British at Ypres. From the region of Hooge the Teutons have renewed their bombardment of the old Flanders town, preparatory to a grand assault and an attempt to break the British fron.t

German submarines are combing the waters of the von Tirpitz "war zone." They have sunk at least thirteen vessels, four of them neutrals, in the last forty-eight hours.

In Galicia, General Mackensen is pressing on in a desperate attempt to crush the retreating Russians and drive them out of Galicia by rapid, hammering strokes.

In Russia Courland, in southeastern Poland, north of Arras, and at several other sectors of their double battlefront, the Germans are driving hard against the enemy's positions.

The greatest activity is reported around Germany's air bases. Both London and Paris have made ready to meet concentrated attacks from the skies. They expect the Zeppelins before the nd of another week..

MORE SHIPS SUNK

Four Neutral Vessels Victims of German Submarines

London, June 5—Four neutral ships, all from Scandivanian countries, have been torpedoed and sunk by German submarines in the North Sea within 24 hours. One of them was the Swedish steamer Lappland and the others were the Danish sailing ship Salvador, the Danish steamer Cyrus and the Norwegian steamer Cubano.

Other victims of the submarines during the 24-hour period were a Lowestroft trawler, the Welsh trawlers Hiorld and Victoria, the British steamer Inkum and Chrysopprasus and the Wilson Line steamer Iona.

The Lappland carried four women passengers. They, with nineteen of the crew, were landed at Peterhead, Scotland. They said the Lappland was torpedoed and sunk during the night while en route to England with a cargo of iron ore. No warning was given by the submarine commander, according to the Lappland's officers. She began to sink rapidly after the crash. The women dressed hurriedly and were lifted into the boats. The steamer disappeared in the darkness as the crew rowed away.

New Note of United States on Submarine War Stiffens Attitude

SHIP WAS NOT ARMED

German Ambassador Bernstorff Sends ..Colonial Office Man to Inform Kaiser Orally.

Washington, June 5.—Only Germany can prevent a break in the present friendly relations she maintains with United States.

The American rejoinder to her evasive reply dealing with submarine warfare leaves no loophole for quibbling. It demands as a matter of right that the United States be assured by Germany that the rules of naval warfare, confirmed by that nation's representatives to the various international conferences, and set forth in existing treaties, be lived up to.

The matter is frankly stated not to be one for either discussion or arbitration. And, so far as the statements of fact raised by the German government in connection with the Lusitania are concerned, they have been brushed aside as irrelevent. On the question of that vessel being armed, it is stated that there was no truth in the allegation, as the liner was examined just before she cleared from her dock at New York.

Washington, June 5—President Wilson read to his cabinet yesterday the draft of a note to be sent to Germany demanding, in effect, an adherence by that nation to the humane principles of international law in the conduct of maritime warfare as affecting neutrals.

Comparatively brief, but described as insistent and emphatic, the communication will be cabled hot later than Monday for presentation by ambassador Gerard to the German foreign minister, Dr. von Jagow.

Germany, in a note cabled to the State Department yesterday by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, expressed regrets that through "an unfortunate accident" a German submarine had torpedoed the American steamship Gulflight, and declared itself "ready to furnish full recompense for the damage thereby sustained by American citizens."

In the same communication the German foreign office said it had not yet been possible to clear up fully the case of the American steamer Cushing, reported attacked by a German aeroplane, and asked that the United States communicate the information in its possesion concerning this incident.

London, June 5—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Amsterdam says:

"A message received here from Berlin states that the American colony in Berlin has been warned officially that diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States may be broken off in 48 hours and that the people should hold themselves in readiness to leave Germany."

New York, June 5—Dr. Meyer Gerhard, member of the German privy council, the agent by whom Ambassador Count von Bernstorff is to acquaint the German Government with the real attitude of this government and its people regarding the German use of submarines against merchant vessels, sailed for Copenhagen, Denmark, Thursday on the steamship United States of the Scandinavian-American Line.

CONDITIONAL PARDON

(Special Dispatch to the Gazette.)

Richmond, June 5.—On recommendation of the presiding judge and the commonwealth's attorney, Governor Stuart today granted a conditional pardon to William Scott, of Prince William county, who has served one half of a five-year term in the penitentiary for burglary.

FATE OF THE TURK.

Moslem Rule in Europe Will Terminate at End of War.

It is still early to prophesy what will be the final fate of the Turk, observes H. G. Dwight, in the Century. One thing, at all events, seems certain; he does definitely make exit from the central arena of European politics. He started a long time ago, when John Sobieski drove him from the gates of Vienna in 1683, to lose Budapest in 1686, to sign in 1699 the disastrous Peace of Carlowitz, when he first deigned to accept the mediation of Christian Powers. And in the light of actual events it is interesting to recall that England was one of the mediators.

During the subsequent two hundred years his history has been little more than one of cessions and interventions, until at London and Bucharest in 1913 he gave up all but the last foothold of his European empire. But even that foothold he virtually surrendered in November last when he chose to throw in his lot with the Teutonic powers. We cannot here review the series of events, extending over thirty-five years, from the first visit in Constantinople of Emperor William II, to the flight last summer into the Dardanelles of the Goeben and the Breslau, which brought the Turk to that decision. The essential point is that he made it, and thereby renounced his old importance as a factor in the European balance of power.

While, in the phrase of the late Mahmud Shevket Pasha, he had a million bayonets to throw into the scale, he kept his independance and he was worth courting. That was why, and only why, Constantinople remained one of the most important diplomatic posts in Europe. Having disposed of his million bayonets, however, having shown his hand, he became merely an incident in the world wide conflict of those who are greater than he. And upon the issue of that conflict hangs his own destiny.

KING PETER OF SERBIA QUITS

Has Gone To Retreat And Will Never Return To Throne

Nish, June 5—That King Peter, Serbia's aged monarch, will never return to the throne is admitted by high officials of the Government, following the King's departure recently to the little town of Vranska Dania In that retreat he will spend the remainder of his days.

No formal abdication of the throne has been announced, but the young Prince Alexander will continue his regency until the death of his father makes him the legal successor to the crown. King Peter has made it known that he can no longer consider a return to the throne, and the Government has formally accepted his decision.

The King is now over 70 years of age and, next to Franz Josef, is the oldest living ruler in the world. Practically all the progress Serbia has made as a nation has been under his leadership. But for years he has suffered from various maladies, and his physicians have insisted that he relinquish his duties.

Accordingly, having put the affairs of the kingdom in the best possible condition, he turned over the regency to his second son, Prince Alexander, who was then 26 years old. The oldest son, Prince George, has been abliged to renounce his succession to the throne several years previous for having expressed a little too freely what he intended to do to Austria when he got to be King.

"FOR PEACE WITH HONOR"

Senator Martin Says People of Virginia Will Stand by President

"The people of the State of Virginia stand for peace with honor. But they will stand by President Wilson on whatever course he determines," says Senator Thomas S. Martin, chairman of the senate appropriations committee. He further said:

"I have just returned from Virginia and I found practically no sentiment for war between the United States and Germany or Mexico. The people stand for peac, and are hoping that Mr. Wilson and th other officials of the administration will be able to follow that path. But they are for peace with honor, and if it necessary to take any other step they will follow the President."

TRAGICAL SCENE IN QUAKER CITY

Child-Wife Shoots Man Whose Tales Broke up Her Home

HUSBAND ON HAND

Desperate Girl Sends Bullets Into Her Defamer Who Made Her a Deserted Bride.

Philadelphia, June 5—Shot twice by a woman who accused him of breaking up her home by repeating slanderous tales to her husband, Ernest Cavallo, 43 years old, of No. 722 South Tenth Stret, was probably fatally wounded last night as he stood in front of his store, No. 817 South Eleventh street, and is dying in Pennsylvania Hospital. The woman who did the shooting, Mrs. Lucia Zaffarano, 17 years old, of No. 40-86 Olive stret, had just fired the second shot when her husband appeared on the scene. He was seeking his wife in the hope of effecting a reconciliation, but found her a moment too late.

Zaffarano was so excited by the shootingf that he pulled a revolver from his pocket and began firing in the air. The shooting aroused the neighborhood around Cavollo's store to a high pitch of excitement. Policemen, who were attracted by the sound of the shots, forced their way througr a crowd of screaming women and excited men. They placed both Zaffarano and his wif eunder arrest. Neither resisted.

Cavallo was hurried to the hospital. The heavy calibre bullet which had been fired from the woman's revolver tore great holes in the right side of his chest and stomach. One of the balls penetrated his abdomen and physicians operated on him immediately.

According to the police, Mrs. Zaffarano shot without any warning whatever. Cavallo was standing in front of his store when the woman appeared and suddenly pulled the revolver from the folds of her dress. Before Cavallo could move she fired twice.

At the hospital Cavallo's antemortem statement was taken by Magistrate Coward, and police also interrogated Zaflarano. Their stories practically agree. The woman, the police say, came to this country only a few weeks ago to marry Zaffarano.

After the wedding Cavallo heard stories from Italy that Mrs. Zaffarano's conduct in the old country had been of questionable nature. Her husband was an old friend of Cavallo and the latter decided to tell him. When the husband heard the story he left his wife.

Zaffarano went to the Italian Consul yesterday and asked his advice. The Consul told him to place no credence in the story, which he said could not be true, and to return to his wife. The husband searched for his wife all yesterday, but could not find her. He was on his way to Cavallo's place of business last night to enlist his aid in the search. Just as he arrived the shooting took place.

URGES BRITAIN'S NEED

Lloyd-George Tells Workmen Nation's Fate In War Depends On Them.

Manchester, England, June 5.—David Lloyd-George, Minister of Munitions, the newly created office in the new coalition Cabinet, in a speech here tonight brought the most urgent message ever told a British audience.

He declared that it depended more upon the masters and men of the workshops of Britain than almost upon any other section of the community whether Britain emerged from the colossal struggle beaten, humiliated and stripped of her power, honor and influence and the mere bond slave of a cruel military tyranny, or whether she should come out triumphant free and more powerful than ever for good in the affairs of men.

Referring to the fall of Przemysl he said:

"The Germans achieved a success—a great success—not because of the superior valor of their soldiers but because of a shower of shot they poured upon the Russians. Two hundred thousand shells were concentrated in the course of a single hour on the Russians.

"Had we been in a position to apply the same progress to the Germans on our front they would have been turned out of France and we should actually have penetrated into Germany and to have seen before us the end of the war."

THE FALL OF PRZEMYSL

Russians Allege That Three Austrian Regiments were Slaughtered

Petrograd, June 5—Official announcement that three Austrian regiments were slaughtered and 4, 000 prisoners taken in a fierce battle fifty miles northwest of Przemysl partly offset the admission from the war office that the Galacian fortress was surrendered to the enemy.

The war office also reported that hundreds of Germans were asphyxiated by their own gas bombs on the Bruza front in Poland.

"A sudden change of wind swept the poisonous gas upon the enemy's trenches, forcing them to evacuate," said the official statement. "Our fire decimated the retreating Germans on a wide front."

The war office bulletin today declared that the evacuation of Przemysl must not be construed as a severe reverse to the Russians. The forces that held the city have fallen back to the eastward upon previously prepared positions that enable them to shorten their line and make further Austro-German advances in the direction of Lemberg highly improbable.

BREAD RIOTS TAKE PLACE IN MEXICO

Red Cross Doubling Efforts to Expedite Relief Work in Country

MANY URGENT CASES

Practically No Progress Made Toward Establishing Constitutional Government in Land.

Washington, June 5—Serious bread riots are taking place in many cities in Mexico. Reports reaching here to that effect are causing the Red Cross to double their efforts to expedite the relief work. Some food stuffs already are enroute to the point where the suffering is worst. But because it is necessary to make distribution arrangements, and there is no government to be appealed to help, delay cannot be avoided.

It is expected that now the German note is out of the way, President Wilson will take up at next Tuesday's cabinet meeting the definition of the "reasonable time" to be given the factions in Mexico to adjust their differences and agree on a government that the United States can recognize.

Meanwhile efforts are in progress to get the military chieftains to agree to aconference at which the suggestions regarding the establishment of a constitutional government can be considered. So far practically no progress has been made, but the efforts will continue until it is certain that they are useless.

CAPTAIN LOST WITH VESSEL

Two Members of Crew Also Drown When Vessel Is Wrecked

Delaware Breakwater, Del., June 5—Captain Burgess and two members of his crew were drowned yesterday when the schooner Warner Moore, from Charleston, S. C., for New York was wrecked off Cobb Island Life Saving Station, about 10 miles north of Cape Charles, Virginia. Four members of the crew were saved.

Norfolk, Va., June 5—Capt. John Jarvis and the crew of 12 men of the New York schooner Edwin H. Redmond were brought here yesterday by the British steamer Dunachton,, from Birkenhead, having been rescued off the North Carolina coast. The Redmond was caught in the storm and because sa badly damaged she was abandoned.

Seven men were rescued by the Coast Guard cutter Onondaga yesterday off Little Island Coast Guard station from the New York schooner C. C. Wehrum, which left Charleston May 29 for New York. The Wehrum became waterlogged in the storm.

Damage along the coast from the recent storm is quite extensive. Shore resorts suffered considerably. Portions of the truck-growing section were under water and farmers' losses will be heavy. The wind at times reached 70 miles an hour.

100,000 HOMELESS JEWS

Warsaw Papers Say That Number on Russian Side Need Aid

Lodz, Russian Poland, June 5—Warsaw newspapers which have been smuggled through the lines say the number of homeless Jews on the Russian side is increasing steadily. At a conference in Moscow recently of the Jewish Aid Society it was estimated that the number of these homeless persons is about 100,000.

The greatest distress prevails among the homeless in the government of Lomza, numbering about 22,000. Thus far it has been almost impossible to give them substantial assistance. At the Moscow conference it was decided to appeal to Jews throughout Russia for aid, and a plan was discussed for taxing wealthy Jews for the benefit of the sufferers.

NO PRIMARY THIS YEAR

Senator Thornton And Delegate Birrell Will be Declared Nominees of Party.

Yesterday was the last day for the filing of the names of candidates for the Democratic primary to be held on August 3rd, at which time nominees will be selected for the general election to be held in November. The two positions to be filled are delegate to the General Assembly from Alexandria city and county, and Senator from Alexandria city, Alexandria, Fairfax and Prince William counties. The only names filed were those of the incumbents, Senator R. T. Thornton, of Fairfax county and Delegate J. Fred Birrell, of this city. In consequence of the fact that these representatives will have no opposition, the primary scheduled for August will be abandoned and Messrs. Thornton and Birrell will be declared the Democratic nominees.

"THE SHIELD OF DAVID."

"The Sword of the Lord and Gideon!" was the tocsin of the Israelites centuries ago, and it was eminently successful. Many members of the race, refugees from Palestine, are now among the allies in their struggles with the Teutons. "The Shield of David," it appears, is their tocsin at this time. The Kaiser believes he is the instrument in the hands of Jehovah to bring about changed conditions in this world but his mission is contested, and that, too, by members of a race whose credentials have stood the test of time.

In the early fall of last year, when the President had requested all denominations in the United States to unite in prayers for peace in the face of the terrible war which was then at its beginning, the Israelitish residents of Alexandria made special invocations in their synagogue. They realized the fact that thousands of Hebrews were in the armies of the Kaiser, Czar, France and England—brothers fighting against brothers. It is so now, while approximately one hundred thousand of the race are in dire distress in Russian Poland today. Many are homeless as a result of the battles which have been in progress in that section, and famine is staring them in the face.

The Zion Mule Transport Corps, a Jewish legion composed almost entirely of refugees from Palestine, has been formed in Alexandria, Egypt. Those refugees who were of Russian nationality expressed the desire to serve in the war under the British flag. England proved herself equal to the occasion, and the British military authorities immediately took steps with a view to forming a Jewish battalion.

Recruiting soon began, and the regiment, whose numbers are continually showing an upward tendency, is under the able command of Colonel J. H. Patterson, D. S. O., A number of British officers were put in charge of the camp and the chief rabbi, Professor Della Pergola, has been appointed honorary chaplain. Officers and men wear on their military caps the Jewish token the "Shield of David," in addition to the British ensign, and in the camp the words of command are spoken in Hebrew.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS.

The fact that ten boys were arraigned in the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of housebreaking and larceny should be a sufficient hints to parents to know the movements of their offspring when they are not in the family home. There is pathos in the hymn, "Where is my Wandering Boy Tonight?" although, unfortunately, too many parents allow their offspring to roam the streets until late hours, often with other boys of the Noah Claypole stripe. This is noticeable in every section of the city, and that more do not go astray is the wonder. The annoyance occasioned by youngsters entering unoccupied houses and breaking up costly chandeliers and selling the same for junk, as well as lead pipes and other necessaries to houses, is chronic in Alexandria.

Under present laws, the authorities are directed to do everything possible for the reclamation of incorrigible urchins, and when this course fails, to turn them over to the State Board of Charities and Corrections who will place them in reform schools or homes where they will be made to lead orderly lives.

The law places a responsibility upon parents and guardians. Upon the first offense, if they give satisfactory assurance that they will make children under them obey the laws of state and city, the court will release such under parole. But if they are arraigned subsequently, their case passes from the Police Court to the board referred to above.

The Gazette has recently called attention to these laws, and those whose mission it is to keep children out of the way of bad companions and prevent them from committing overt acts should take heed.

HYPHENATED NEWSPAPERS

The Newport News Press gives an interesting sketch of Virginia journalism during the past half century, in which it shows the rise and fall of many newspapers in the Old Dominion and the merging of others under one management by the use of the hyphen. The consolidation of papers in this state has been going on practically since the close of the civil war. In ante bellum days there were generally two papers in every town—one democratic and the other of the union persuasion. It was so in Alexandria. The Gazete, like Robert E. Lee, could see no good reason for secession, but was ready to follow the fortunes of Virginia. The Virginia Sentinel, published by the Messrs. Smith, was the advocate of democracy and also secession after the election of Abraham Lincoln as President.

At the close of the war the Smiths were in Richmond, where they published a paper, and from that time up to two years ago attempts have been made to establish a second paper in Alexandria. One, published by the late M. D. Ball in the seventies, was called the Sentinel, but it failed to become the successor of the journal by that name printed by the Smiths. We have not kept a list of journalistic failures in Alexandria since 1865, but believe that twenty five or thirty miscarriages have occurred to enthusiastic persons, some with and some without journalistic experience or genius.

During all these years the Gazette has continued to show the age and body of the times, although occasionly glared at by jealous eyes, but none, however, has been able to supplant it in the mission upon which it started at the close of the revolutionary war.

Mr. Reed appealed and yesterday the Supreme Court refused the petitioner a writ of error.

PREVENTING WASTE OF FOOD

New Set of Rules for Berlin Restaurants

Berlin, June 5—With the idea of still further preventing the waste of food supplies the Berlin authorities have promulgated a new set of rules for restaurants in all parts of the city. These regulations, now effective are as follows:

Table d'hote meals are abolished; in the future only special orders will be filled.

Second—The larger use of vegetables and restricted use of meat must be encouraged.

Third—Less roast meat and more boiled meat must be offered.

Fourth—The use of fat must be decreased.

Fifth—The use of potatoes must be limited to the lowest degree possible; only boiled and fried potatoes may be served.

Furthermore, the police will introduce new regulations for the serving of meals and they will forbid the presence in restaurants of neutral newspapers not friendly to Germany.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Program of Interesting Events Being Arranged for Commencement Week.

Several interesting entertainments and other events will take place at the end of next week incident to the graduation of the Alexandria High School Seniors. The commencement exercises will take place on the 14th at eight o'clock in the Opera House. The Saturday before at eight o'clock the Seniors will hold their "Class Night" in Lee Camp Hall, at which time a program of entertaining features will be enjoyed by the graduates and the members of the Junior Class, who are the guests of honor. The Junior Class will entertain Thursday night in honor of the grauating class.

The commencement program is now being completed and invitations ready to be issued by those who will graduate, the exact number being unknown until the examinations next week are over. There are a number of medals to be awarded in the various lines of high school work and the societies and associations, and also the gold medal to the winner of the American merchant marine esasy contest. Speeches and other interesting features will go to complete the program.

Final examinations will begin in the High School Monday, June 7. The marks made by the pupils in the different examinations will be averaged for the second term scholarship with the general average of the marks for the three six weeks' periods, this grade obtained being in turn averaged with the first term scholarship, which was obtained similarly, in order to establish the grand average for the year. All pupils who make ninety per cent or more in any subject come under the exemption rule and are not required to be examined in that subject. Fourth year students, however, are required to stand all examinations. The examinations each day begin at 9 and close at 3. The following is the schedule announced recently:

Monday, June 7, Fourth year, Science; Third Year, French and Latin; Second Year, Mathematics; and First Year, Latin. Tuesday, June 8, Fourth Year, French and Latin; Third Year, Mathematics; Second Year, English; and First Year, History. Wednesday, June 9, Fourth Year, Mathematics; Third, English; Second, History; and First, English. Thursday, June 10, Fourth, History; Third, Science; Second, Latin; and First, Science. Friday, June 11, Fourth Year, English; Third, History; Second, Science; and First, Mathematics.

The final debate in the A. H. S. Literary Society debating contest will take place tonight at 8 p. m. in the Lee School building. The subject is "Resolved, that Alexandria city should adopt a commission from of government." Miss Anna Haslett will speak for the affirmative while Gus Pohl will sustain the negative, these two having defeated the ten other contestants who were originally in the race. The three judges tonight will be Dr. William M. Smith, Leo P. Harlow, and Walter C. Foster. The winner of the debate will be awarded the medal for debate at the commencement exercises on the 14th, the medal for declamation which will also be awarded at that time having been won by Ashby Bladen Thursday night in the declaiming contest.

The volley ball league championship has been won by the Fourth Year team. Jack Reardon is captain of the victorious class.

A number from the High School went on a picnic to "Dripping Springs" Decoration Day in the afternoon, which was a half holiday.

AUSTRIA'S POWERFUL GUN.

Its Awful Destructiveness is Shown by Results in Bombarding of Tarnow.

The German 42-centimeter mortars, with which Liege was battered into submission, are declared not to have been as effective as the Austro-Hungarian weapons of the same calibre—two of which were used against the Russian troops in Tarnow in the great May victory in West Galicia.

In Tarnow one shot from one of these guns struck, apparently by error, a peasants' house of brick. It is now a mere mass of bricks, curiously level with the ground, house and all having apparently been swallowed up in the crater made by the bursting shell. Three persons were killed in this house. A block away is one of the city schools, which the Austrians believed rightly was being used as quarters for Russian soldiers. A gaping cleft, 30 feet wide and extending from cellar to roof of the four-story building, shows with what precision the gunners found their mark. A second school building, a half mile away, was hit squarely on the roof. The wall on the side toward the courtyard is torn out bodily. On the side facing the street a hole 20 feet in diameter was carved out neatly in the thick brick and concrete wall, the aperture being as nicely rounded as if the circle had been laid out with compasses. The brick work circle came out with such accuracy and force that it has left its imprint, again as a carefully-rounded semi-circle, in the high fence of grated iron before the school building. The roof, is, of course, gone, and from various windows the interior woodwork projects in tangled masses.

Another shell struck the cavalry barracks in the great courtyard, in which Rusian soldiers at the moment wer busily loading supplies for the retreat. Horses nad men were blown to pieces by the air pressure from the explosion or killed by the shower of bricks, rooftiles and fragments of shell. In the low one stroy building surrounding the baracks square is at one point, a great gap, which the correspondent paced out at 24 yards wide—the measure of the force of the explosion.

The new 42-centimeter shells weigh over 2500 pounds—more than those of the Krupp gun, and each shell costs over $800.
